In Brief

As a UNESCO 'City of Gastronomy', home to historic Bryggen and known as the 'Gateway to the Fjords', Bergen is an exceptional year-round destination to discover Norway's vibrant mix of Scandinavian sophistication and utterly breathtaking natural beauty.

What's included?

Trip Overview

Explore Norway's second-largest city and 'Gateway to the Fjords' at any time of the year during this three-night cultural city break.

Bergen is known for its UNESCO accolades - there's the world-famous Bryggen Wharf where colourful houses surround the bustling harbour, as well as Bergen's status as 'City of Gastronomy' thanks to the varied and vibrant food scene. You'll discover both during a city and culture tour with a knowledgeable local guide who will take you to all the famous spots as well as some hidden gems only the locals know about. There will also be ample opportunities to sample some exquisite food and for the real foodie travellers, the chance to fish and cook your own fish and seafood will be a real highlight. You can also add a guided food tour of the city - you can find more details in our 'Personalise' section.

You will also have plenty of time to wander the streets independently. As you walk, look out for the colourful graffiti, the wonderful architecture like that of Fantoft Stave Church and the charming short streets - some of which are so short they only contain one building!

A trip to Norway wouldn't be complete without getting up close to the famous fjords and in honour of its 'Gateway to the Fjords' name, this trip also includes an exceptional cruise to Mostraumen where the fjord narrows to completely surround you with impressive rock formations and cascading waterfalls.

Bergen gives you the chance to discover a city rich in both vibrant culture and unbelievable natural beauty. It is an ideal location to get to know the real Norway, and this carefully crafted itinerary ensures you come away with exceptional insight into this fantastic city, no matter what time of year you choose to visit!
